With their brand new CD album release, 'Swing Machine', The Scamps present themselves as a jazz-influenced band playing rock and roll Music. Fourteen accomplished musicians on stage play live music with a flavour of swing, a rock and roll heart and an infusion of pop making for a package that appeals to a wide public. And it works; the combo plays in blues, jazz and rock festivals to great acclaim and has a growing following as the music comes from their hearts.

The SCAMPS are unique in that they are probably the only French act to record regularly outside of France during the 80's and 90's, and now into the 00's. It's what MOON MARTIN ( who wrote 'Bad news' and 'Bad case of loving you' made into a worldwide hit by Robert Palmer), experienced during a tour in 1997 when the SCAMPS were opening for this American star.

August 1998 saw the SCAMPS in Nashville Tennessee, for a one month recording session with, for this project, their new producer Moon Martin, which finally cracked it for the French Band.

The goal was to match the live sound of the SCAMPS in a studio environment and for you, the public, to experience the spark that set the fire burning. The necessary ingredients have now been assembled (including Human Cannonball with guest Webb Wilder), showcasing the SCAMPS at their raw, rockin'-best with this CD, 'Satisfaction Guaranteed'. (Griff/Sony Music).

And what's more, the SCAMPS have the extraordinary ability to play and perform anywhere they choose. Surprised passers-by have become audiences, rockin' and boppin'to their all-out tempos on stages, pubs, festivals, record shops all over Europe.

By the time you get to the end of this album, you may find yourselves so breathless you'll be struggling for the breath, but at the same time, eager to play the album again.
